

LORIMER IS OUSTED

ILLINOIS SENATOR IS DECLARED GUILTY OF CORRUPTIVE METHODS

WASHINGTON, July 13. — Senator Lorimer of Illinois was ousted from the senate today by a vote of 55 to 28. This action was taken on the Lea resolution declaring it the sense of the senate that Lorimer's election was corrupt, and that he was not entitled to seat in the senate.

The vote was taken shortly after 1 o'clock with about 90 members of the senate present. When the senate convened for the morning session, Lorimer appeared at his customary seat, wearing a small American flag pinned to the buttonhole of his coat. He resumed his attack upon Senators Lea and Kern, the members of the minority committee that conducted the investigation and shaking his fist in the faces of the two senators, he defied them to refute his statements. Neither answered. Lorimer concluded his speech at 1:37 this afternoon and a roll call was immediately ordered.

During his address Lorimer declared that false testimony had been procured to oust him from the senate. "My opponents hired William J. Burns to bolster up the case," declared Lorimer. "Burns placed a venerable United States senator in the grave on testimony that the president of the United States now believes to be untrue. Even Glavis was given $750 to prove that Lorimer had corrupted departments of the national government. They had Glavis indicted to make him hold his tongue."

When the roll call was under way Lorimer did not vote. As the verdict was announced he smilingly rose and walked toward the republican cloak room, with a swing in gait. As he reached the door, Senator Smoot of Utah grasped his hand and friends from the lower house of congress joined. Senators Dillingham and Jones, the others who voted for Lorimer, joined the deposed senator in the cloak room and bade him farewell.

FRIENDS TAKE MEAN ADVANTAGE BRIDAL COUPLE

RESIDENCE IS HANDSOMELY DECORATED WITH SIGN OF "NEWLY WEDS"

For the past week a huge sign bearing the wording "newly weds" graced the front of the old Grisson residence on South street, but yesterday the sign disappeared. The sign decorated the residence occupied by J. P. Montague, superintendent of the Tonopah Extension mill, who recently returned from his honeymoon. Mr. and Mrs. Montague returned several days ago and on the evening of their arrival they were treated to an old fashioned serenade, as carried out by friends of the couple. The reception was a royal one, even if it was noisy.

The house was decorated during the absence of the couple by admiring friends, and the entire town was acquainted with the fact that it was to be the residence of a bridal couple. The sign, however, was promptly removed on the return of the occupants of the dwelling.

TOTAL OF 8475 TONS OF ORE SENT TO MILLS DURING LAST WEEK

Ore shipments from the Tonopah mines for the past week reached a total of 8475 tons, with an estimated value of $211,875. The shipments were distributed as follows: Tonopah Mining company, 3100 tons; Belmont, 1650 tons, sent to the Miller's plant and 850 tons to the new mill; Montana Tonopah 888 tons; Tonopah Extension, 912 tons; West End, 590 tons; MacNamara, 495 tons; and the Midway, 80 tons.

A slight decrease was noted in the week's production as compared to the record of the previous week, owing to July 4th being a holiday and the mines being closed on that date.

ADVOCATES FOR GOOD ROADS TO MEET IN TONOPAH

CONVENTION WILL BE HELD NEXT WEEK AND MANY VISITORS COMING

Next week there will be a good roads convention in Tonopah that will be of great importance to Ely though the number of delegates to it may not be large. Among the number, however, may be J. E. Stevens and J. C. Wheeler, White Pine county commissioners; Gael Hoag, secretary of the Ely Commercial league, and C. V. Jenkins, business manager for the Nevada Con. and Steptoe Smelting & Mining companies. They plan, if possible, to leave Sunday morning in the Stevens car for Tonopah to represent this county and boost for the transcontinental auto route through Ely.

Two commissioners of Inyo county, Cal., are to be in attendance at the convention as well as county officials of Esmeralda and Nye counties and many other persons who are interested in seeing the Ely route standardized from Salt Lake to Los Angeles and adopted as one of the official trans-continental auto routes approved by the American Auto association. Governor Spry of Utah, who visited Ely a couple of weeks ago to personally inspect the route and decide whether he should recommend the establishment of a state road to the Utah state line, cannot be present personally in Tonopah but will have two representatives there.

One of the features of the establishment of this part of the transcontinental route is the plan to have a telephone follow it from Salt Lake to Los Angeles. The line would be so constructed that portable telephones could be attached at every mile and this feature would be given wide publicity as tourists carrying a portable instrument would then have no fear of being stranded for long on the route.

CONTENTS OF WELL FARGO SAFE ARE UNINJURED

STEEL VAULT CONTAINED HUGE AMOUNT OF CURRENCY AND COIN

The huge safe of the Wells-Fargo Express company, which was in the big fire of last Monday morning, was opened yesterday and the contents found uninjured. The steel receptacle contained several thousand dollars in currency and coin, in addition to other valuable papers and all passed through the extreme heat without damage.

While the safe remained in the ruins of the Tonopah block, the express company maintained an armed guard at that spot. The safe was removed to the new offices of the company in the Nyco building yesterday and was then opened.

of the telephone line will not be prohibitive as the cost of the government line from Ely to Berry Creek was $61.35 a mile, and the line to follow the auto route would not cost much, if any more.

While good roads and a telephone line cannot be made available without the expenditure of considerable public money, the expenditure of the money may be counted as a good investment. Think of the number of autos that will come through Ely during the next few years if the roads are put in the best possible condition and the fact well advertised. Every car that comes through will bring people who will spend more or less money in the town and when the parties arriving daily become numerous the town will present a much more lively appearance and much outside money will be added to the local circulation while practically the whole cost of the road building and a large part of the cost of telephone construction will be

VACANT HOUSE UNKNOWN QUANTITY AT MANHATTAN

EMPTY STRUCTURE CANNOT BE SECURED BY TENANTS AT ANY PRICE

Special to the Bonanza
MANHATTAN, July 13.—There is not a vacant house in Manhattan. This is a condition obtaining in not another mining camp at this time in Nevada and speaks louder than words of the prosperity of the camp. Recent new mining activities have brought to the camp families both of superintendents and miners, who have had a hard time finding shelter. Storage for their effects is being resorted to and using hotel and lodging house rooms for temporary abode.

This has been the condition in Manhattan for nearly a year and it is getting no better fast. Every week or so something new in a mining way is started up and now families come in as a result. One instance is that of a prominent leaser who last fall sold his home, being undecided about returning this spring. He is here and has searched for a house for three weeks, trying to buy or rent one.

Building of two or three-room cottages in this camp for rent should be a better investment than any dividend paying mining stock on the board. Furnished houses of such size rent readily for $25 a month and for their cost there is not an investment with an income comparable to them. No one is making an effort to fill the demand, all being occupied with other matters and the market for houses goes a-begging.

Ed Ryan, state mine inspector, arrived from the north yesterday morning, having been summoned to this city on business in connection with his office. He will remain in Tonopah for a week or ten days.

J. S. Mullins of the Nevada First National bank left yesterday for Seattle on his annual vacation. He will be absent about a month.

J. L. Lindsay, the Manhattan mining man, who is connected with the Big Four company, came in
